Ticket Information

Problem Statement : Read/write converters not working

Module : Spring data MongoDB

Priority : High Status : Open

Description : Converter although it doesn't convert from a store-supported type .You might want to check you annotation setup at the converter implementation.

Comments

I'm getting these warnings, too, but the application seems to work.Does this have any effect on the date conversions?

Spring Data commons registers the java.time converters by default for quite some time now and considers them simple types that can be handled by the store itself.
